Library Closed on Monday May 31

The HAM-TMC Library will be closed on Monday, May 31, 2010 in observance of Memorial Day. Regular hours resume on Tuesday June 1st.

RefWorks Mobile Access

RefWorks, a web-based bibliographic management tool that helps users organize and create personal databases online, format bibliographies and manuscripts, and import references from databases, can now be accessed via mobile devices through RefMobile.

The interface gives users access to the most commonly used RefWorks functions:

- Search the entire RefWorks databases
- View references by folder
- Add and remove references from folders
- Create new folders
- Add comments to Notes fields

Users can also import new references to their RefWorks account by using the new SmartAdd feature.

Visit the following link for a complete set of instructions in how to use RefMobile.

To access RefWorks visit the Library website, click on databases and select RefWorks.

SCOPUS Mobile Access

Search SCOPUS with your iPhone through Scopus Alerts (Lite) mobile application, to find articles, create alerts, make notes, and share links instantly.

Features & Functionality

The mobile application will allow you to access the following features:

- Search across thousands of scholarly journals from more than 5,000 international publishers
- Save the important articles in one place for easy look-up
- Set up and review email alerts for your favorite searches
- Set up email alerts for when an author cites a particular article
- Annotate articles with your own notes
- Share article links through email or twitter

To start using Scopus Alerts (Lite) go to the Library website, <http://www.library.tmc.edu/> click on databases and select SCOPUS.

Register online and create a personal account. If you already are a SCOPUS registered user, skip this step. Use the new username and password with Scopus Alerts (Lite) on your iPhone and use your institutional e-mail address to log in.
