Library Closed Thanksgiving Day

The HAM-TMC Library will close on Thursday November 24 in observance of Thanksgiving Day. Library hours on Friday November 25 will be 8:00 am – 5:00 pm. Regular hours resume Saturday November 26.

New Resource:UpToDate

The Library is pleased to announce that the UpToDate clinical decision support system is now available. Frequent requests from clients during the past year attest to the popularity of UpToDate.

With comprehensive, current, illustrated and fully referenced information on more than 6,000 clinical topics, UpToDate is one of the most complete sources of synthesized information in internal medicine and its subspecialties: family medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, and pediatrics.

Remote Access is not available for this resource.

For information on how to access this database, go to:

New Titles From Nature

The Library has negotiated with Nature Publishing to add more journal titles for remote access users at the educational level. Eight new titles are available via remote access:

- Nature Chemical Biology
- Nature Clinical Practice Cardiovascular Medicine
- Nature Clinical Practice Gastroenterology & Hepatology
- Nature Clinical Practice Oncology
- Nature Clinical Practice Urology
- Nature Materials
- Nature Physics
- news@nature

HAM-TMC Library – At Your Service

The end of the semester is fast approaching. Study space, computers and electronic access to academic resources are a must. The HAM-TMC library wants you to continue to take advantage of the resources and services we have available.

Don't forget, all students have access to our electronic resources inside the Library and all eligible students can access these resources remotely. We have also added a link to Tulane library resources on our webpage so that Tulane students can access their resources as well as ours.
