Digital Commons@ The Texas Medical Center

DigitalCommons@ The Texas Medical Center. The new institutional repository, powered by the ProQuest DigitalCommons platform, is provided by the HAM-TMC Library. The repository is now open to faculty and students at UT Health Science Center at Houston and Baylor College of Medicine. Library staff are available to help individuals deposit their research, course materials, writings and other data into DigitalCommons. Dissertations and theses have been batch loaded and are available.

Features include an email link at the bottom of the right blue sidebar to request more information and an RSS feed button.
