Double Your Money

Here is a rare chance to double your money! This Spring each gift to the endowment for the historical collections will be matched by the John P. McGovern Foundation. The endowment helps preserve and enhance the historical book collections, the archives and manuscripts, and a large photograph collection. Please consider a generous gift to this endowment. You may make your gift by check using this form <http://mcgovern.library.tmc.edu/contributionFormHome.pdf> or telephone Elizabeth White (713.799.7139) to donate with your credit card.

Please visit the historical book collections on the 2d Floor of the Library (Monday – Thursday) and the archive collections in the Library's offsite facility at 8272 El Rio, Suite 190 (Monday – Friday). Come and see what Houstonians and your colleagues have been admiring and supporting the past few years.

Harry Potter Fans Wanted

Are you familiar with Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry? Do you have expertise in herbology, 15th & 16th century science, or Renaissance medicine? The Library would like to host the traveling exhibit, Harry Potter's World: Renaissance Science, Magic and Medicine. This exhibit from the National Library of Medicine and the American Library Association requires local programs and partners. We are looking for individuals in the Texas Medical Center to give us their ideas for programs or speakers and to review the application for hosting this exhibit. More information can be found at:

HAM-TMC Library Receives Grant from the National Library of Medicine

The Vietnamese Civic Center – Consumer Health Collaborative has received funding from the National Library of Medicine (NLM). Building on an earlier Consumer Health Information for Asians project, the Houston Academy of Medicine-Texas Medical Center (HAM-TMC) Library will work in collaboration with the Vietnamese Civic Center (VNCC) to create a health library at their new facility. The Vietnamese population of Houston, will have greater access to much needed health information. A computer with Internet access in the VNCC library will enable searching for health information in Vietnamese, using MedlinePlus's Multiple Languages and NLM's Asian-American Health website,
