Darwin 2009 Celebration
The bicentennial of Charles Darwin’s birth and the 150th anniversary of the publication of On the Origin of Species is being celebrated by Darwin2009 Houston with a year-long events of Darwin’s life, his contribution to science and continuing developments in our scientific knowledge. The exciting and awe-inspiring facts of evolution and the implications of the science of evolution should be understood by all, scientists and non-scientists alike.

Many Houston institutions, including the Houston Academy of Medicine-Texas Medical Center (HAM-TMC) Library, Houston Museum of Natural Science (HMNS), the University of Houston Libraries, and the Houston Zoo, will play a part in Darwin2009 Houston.

Visit our special website www.darwin2009houston.org for a complete list of events and participating institutions.
