Below are the highlights for July 2010

New Library Online Catalog Interface

Check out the HAM-TMC Library's new online catalog interface. The new interface provides additional enhanced searching to make it easier to navigate and some added features including the ability to print, export, and email your search results quickly and easily.

STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts

Sign up for STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts, an e-mail delivery service from current research of approximately 130 clinical journals on evidence-based medicine (EBM). STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts system works with McMaster University McMaster Plus, delivering pre-rated EBM alerts that are qualified, then rated for clinical relevance and newsworthiness by a panel of practicing physicians.

Questions? contact the Library's Reference Desk at 713-799-7161, via e-mail at: reference.librarian@exch.library.tmc.edu or chat: <http://www.library.tmc.edu/is/chat.cfm>

New OvidSP Interface

Ovid users will notice a new and improved version of Ovid databases, electronic journals and electronic books as a new Ovid platform becomes available on August 2, 2010.

The new interface will allow you to create and manage research projects within OvidSP under My Projects, just need to create a log in account within Ovid.
