New Library Website

As our patrons and visitors change and grow how we bring information to our users changes as well. With that in mind, The TMC Library is redesigning its website to bring you a new look and better functionality.

A link to the newly developed website is available in the current site, or you can go directly to: <http://the.library.tmc.edu/>. We will be launching the site next month, and we are looking for input and feedback. We encourage you to visit the new website and send any comments or suggestions via email to the Webmaster or fill out the survey using the link in the top right of the header labeled "New Website Feedback" or access the link at: <http://the.library.tmc.edu/main/feedback.html>

Your opinion is important to us. We thank you for your time, and we most certainly value your input.

Save the Date: September 21, 2011 - Health Care Reform – Free Panel Discussion and Lunch
